NO. 9.

COSSACK CHOIR WILL BE MAJOR ENTERTAINMENT

RUSSIAN SINGERS, UNDER LEAD OF SERGEI SOKOLOFF, WILL SING HERE NOV. 14.

Cossacks from the steppes of Russia—great fighters, great singers, will come in flesh and blood to Maryville when the famous Russian Cossack Chorus, under the direction of Sergei Sokoloff, will appear in a concert Monday night, November 14 at the college auditorium. They come as the major entertainment of the fall quarter.

Dressed in their traditional costume of knee length tunic, with webbing for cartridges across the breast, wide flowing sleeves, belt and dagger, and high black boots, they seem to have dismounted just the moment before from their sturdy horses.

Their voices rising and falling like the pipes of a giant organ under the masterful hands of Director Sergei Sokoloff bring forth an emotional effect rarely heard. Their songs are living, vital things, acting in voice the scenes portrayed in poem.

Few things can reflect the nature of a people as music does. Sergei Sokoloff, with his remarkable Russian Cossack Chorus, creates a more vivid mental picture of Russia through his program of concert, than a long study can produce. The deep Russian snows, the great barren stretches of country, and a vague feeling of unrest seem to find their way into music through the interpretations which the Russian Cossack Chorus gives. The Russian classic songs, serenades, Cossack battle songs, humorous selections, love songs, folk songs, offer a wide range for displaying the ability of the chorus in the portrayal of greatly varied emotions. They express all the pathos and feeling of Russian people, they put soul into their work with exquisite touches of that eerie Russian temperament, half melancholy, half weird and possessing the capacity of taking one entirely out of one's self.

And this is true whether they sing about sorrow or joy, about devotion or revelry, it is true of their magnificent solo work with the accompaniment of the chorus and of their perfect ensemble singing. Often the singing sounds like the storm sweeping the steppes or it is appealing and silvery like a prayer; then again one hears hilarity, or the metallic rattle of horses on rough or frozen ground, rising

MUSIC FRATERNITY MEETING IS PARTY

The regular meeting of Alpha Epsilon Psi for Monday, October 31, was in the form of a Halloween party at the home of Mr. Charles R. Gardner, head of the Music Department. The members came masked and were conducted on a treasure hunt. The treasure at the end of the hunt was the material for popping corn. After the treasure hunt, the remainder of the evening was spent in playing games.

The members and their guests were: Mr. Gardner, Mr. H. T. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hickernell, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Schuster, Miss Ruth Morris, Mr. William Holdridge, Genevieve Miller, Wilma Lewis, La Verna Wells, Ruth Stewart, Darlene Schneider, Irene Matzger, Lola Belle Sutterlin, Helen Kelley, Janet Davis, Mildred Carter, Marie Day, Mary Allen, Berniece Pence, Beatrice Sherman, Julia Gates, Grace Reed, Edna Mary Monk, Glen Duncan, Harrison Rider, and Donald Johnson.

The committee in charge was Genevieve Miller and Wilma Lewis.

"Y" ORGANIZATIONS HAVE JOINT PARTY

The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. had a joint Halloween party Thursday, October 27. The Y. W. C. A. Hut in the college park was decorated with yellow and black crepe paper, bright colored leaves, yellow pumpkins, and black cats, and witches.

On the committee in charge of the games were Faye Sutton, Eudora Smith, and Charles Hurley. The first game on the program was "Pleased or Displeased" followed by an initiation of the freshmen. The game "Who, What and Where" furnished much amusement and later in the evening a ghost story was read to the group by Charles Henry. The Y. W. music chairman led

NEXT ASSEMBLY WILL BE TUESDAY MORNING

Dr. W. Elmer Ekblaw, Professor of Geography, Clark University, Worcester, Massachusetts, Editor of the Home Geographis Monthly, and Assistant Editor of Economic Geography, will speak at assembly on Tuesday, November 8.

Dr. Ekblaw, who is to speak before the Missouri State Teachers Association, meeting in Kansas City, November 9-11, will speak here as he is on his way to Kansas City. He will give an illustrated lecture on either Scandinavian Countries or Great Britain.

MR. LAMKIN HAS TWO BALLOTS FROM 1860

President Lamkin has exhibited during the last week some relics that at the present pre-election period are of interest. He has two ballots and photograph badges from the election of 1860. They were used in the campaign by the Northern Democrats and the Southern Democrats.

A reading of United States history will show that the great issue that was before the country in 1860 was that of slavery in the territories. This issue divided the Democratic party into two sections—the Southern Democrats and the Northern Democrats. The Northern Democrats declared that the people in the territories should decide the question of slavery for themselves. They nominated Stephen A. Douglas of Illinois, the leading advocate for Squatter, or popular sovereignty, as their candidate for president, with Herschel V. Johnson as his running mate. The Southern Democrats insisted that Congress should protect slavery in all the territories. Their candidate for president was John C. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, with Gen. Joseph Lane for vice-president. The Republican party, made up almost entirely of Northerners declared that neither Congress nor a territorial legislature had any right to give slavery any legal existence in any territory of the United States. The candidates they selected were Abraham Lincoln for President and Andrew Johnson for Vice-President. The Conservative Union Party carefully avoided the term "slavery" in their platform and stood mainly for the political principles propounded in the constitution. Their presidential candidate was Bell, of Tennessee.

The results of the election in Missouri shows us that the total Missouri vote, 165,518 was distributed as follows: Douglas, 58,801; Bell, 58,372; Breckenridge, 31,317; Lincoln, 17,028.

There were nine electoral votes from Missouri in 1860. Several of the men who ran as representative from their district either was or became political popular later. Two of these which we find on the Northern Democratic ticket were John B. Henderson of Pike County, who later became United States Senator, especially remembered for introducing the "Compensated Abolishment" Bill into Congress; and Mordecai Oliver who served as Secretary of State in the Cabinet of James Buchanan.

Mr. Cooper and Mr. Cauffield have extension classes at Trenton. Mr. Cooper is teaching Rural Sociology 14 and Vitalized Agriculture 55c. Mr. Cauffield is teaching a double course in Geography, 53 and 142.

"LEST WE FORGET"

"In Honor of the Students and Faculty who served in the World War"—these words, cut into granite to last throughout the ages, stand as a monument to those brave men of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College who served in the World War, offering, and in some cases giving, their lives to make the world free for democracy.

How many of the students in the College today—many of them having little or no recollection of the war itself—know where this monument to the bravery and patriotism of these men is located? Those students who have never seen this monument should notice that inscription at the base of the flag-pole in front of the main building.

What more ideal place could be found for such a monument than the base of that flag-pole—the standard of the flag for which those students and faculty served? A list of the names of those who served their country during the World War is to be found just outside the entrance to the auditorium.

MEETS WITH STATE BOARD AT MARSHALL

MISS DeLUCE GOES AS TREASURER OF STATE A. A. U. W.—LOCAL BRANCH GIVES AWARDS.

Miss Olive S. DeLuce attended the State Board Meeting of the American Association of University Women, held at Marshall, Mo., October 27 and 28. She is State Treasurer of that organization.

The American Association of University Women is an organization of college women. It does much in granting fellowships and scholarships to women. At present it is working toward a million-dollar fellowship fund to establish both national and international fellowships which will be available for graduate study or research. On June 1, the amount credited was $197,648.40. This was over and above fellowships awarded by certain of the branches or sections.

The Maryville Branch of A. A. U. W. gives each year a loan scholarship of $150 to a high ranking Junior woman, the sum to be used at fifty dollars a quarter for the three quarters of her senior year. This year the scholarship is held by Helen Busby.

Each year at Commencement, the Maryville Branch awards a gold medal to the woman making the highest grades during the senior year. Birdie Lemaster, who had the previous year won the Junior Scholarship, was

Y. M. C. A. INITIATES ITS NEW MEMBERS

The Y. M. C. A. will hold its annual initiation Wednesday night, November 1, at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting will take place in Room 205 with the president of the organization, George Walter Allen, in charge. Junior Porterfield will play several selections on the piano during the course of the evening. Thus far twenty-seven of the college men are signed up to be taken into the club which is a conspicuous one on the campus.

Anyone wishing to join the Y. M. C. A. is urged to attend this meeting.

STUDENTS WILL HAVE CHARGE NOVEMBER 10

The Student Council will have charge of classes and all College activities on Thursday, November 10. At that time the faculty will be off campus, attending a meeting of the State Teachers Association in Kansas City. Classes will meet as usual and students are expected to be present.

No classes will meet on Friday, November 11, on account of it being Armistice Day.

COLLEGE INSTRUCTOR TALKS ON PENSION

"Amendment No. 1" to the Missouri State Constitution was discussed by Dr. O. Myking Mehus, of the Social Science Department, at the Christian Church on Sunday evening, October 30. In discussing this amendment Dr. Mehus pointed out that the adoption of it will give the next State Legislature the power to enact a suitable Old Age Pension Law in this state.

"Amendment No. 1 has the strong endorsement of both the Democratic and Republican parties of the state, as well as the State Federation of Labor, the Missouri League of Women Voters, and the church and fraternal organizations of the State," Dr. Mehus declared.

In Missouri, Dr. Mehus said, the aged poor are kept in 85 poor houses, where 3,000 of these unfortunates are in many cases living under intolerable conditions. In the 1932 official reports of the State's Almshouse Inspectors to the Missouri Board of Charities and Correction it is stated that there are poorhouses in this state where the only facilities for bathing are the dishpan for healthy and diseased alike; where there is only one lamp allowed in the whole building, chivalrously given to the women by the men; where the only warmth is in the cellar; where insane are kept in cages; where there are 'locked beds'; and one poorhouse where the superintendent was out on bail on a liquor charge.

Dr. Mehus believes that not only is the poorhouse an inhuman way of taking care of the aged poor, but it is an extravagant and expensive way. He gave in support of his belief the following facts. A study of two years' experience in California shows that two old persons are being provided for by pensions at the same cost as one inmate in a poorhouse. New York state has found that it costs $13.00 less per month to pension an aged person than to care for him at the poorhouse. In Wisconsin it costs about twice as much in the poorhouse as to pension a poor unfortunate. In Montana it costs over three and one-half as much in the poorhouse, while in Wyoming it costs five times as much in the poorhouse as for pensions. In the almshouses in Missouri the total cost per inmate, including depreciation and interest on the investment, averages $387 a year while in New York the average pension is $316, in California it is $276, and the average for the Writers' Club Meets.

The new organization of the Writers' Club met Wednesday, October 26, in Room 226, at five o'clock. The meeting was called to discuss the report of the rules and regulations committee. The next regular meeting will be November 9.

FATHERS MAKE ANNUAL VISIT TO COLLEGE

STUDENTS TAKE FATHERS ABOUT
CAMPUS AND INTRODUCE THEM TO WORK OF COLLEGE.

Early Friday morning many Dads began to arrive from far and near to spend a day visiting, dining and attending classes with their sons and daughters. Some of the Dads came Thursday evening and spent the night with their sons.

At ten o'clock in the morning, the Dads registered in the Social Hall. Then they spent the remainder of the morning looking over the administration building, attending classes, visiting with their sons or daughters, or talking with instructors or with the fathers of their students.

A banquet was served at 12:30 at the Residence Hall and the North Methodist church. Dr. Jesse Miller, President of the Board of Regents, was toast-master at Residence Hall. President Lamkin gave a toast in behalf of the faculty, Marjorie Constable, President of the girls at the dormitory, spoke for the students, while Mr. F. E. Patrick, superintendent of Bethany High School, responded in behalf of the Dads.

At the North Methodist church Dean Sharley K. Pike acted as toast-mistress, while Mr. Diesterich, College-high principal, spoke for the faculty, Raymond Mitzel, student president, for the students, and Mr. Edward Busby, of Maryville, for the Dads.

In the afternoon, some Dads attended classes, but many heard a concert by the College band, in the auditorium. The band, conducted by Mr. Hickernell, gave the following program:

Overture, "Radiant", Keiffer.
Morceau, "The Dawn of Love", Bendix.

Cornet Solo, "The Pearls", Chambers—Mr. Gaugh.
Selection, "Arcadia", Laurens.
Vocal Selections—Mr. Schuster.
"Indian War Dances", Bellstedt.
Waltz, "Jolly Fellows", Vollstedt.
Following the concert many fathers witnessed a swimming meet in the College pool. Others were entertained by smokers at the sorority and fraternity houses.

At 6 o'clock the Dads ate dinner with their sons or daughters. At 7:45 many went in a body to the Maryville-Cape football game. The wind grew colder in the hour or two preceding the game and before the game was over, many well-pleased with the victory they were sure was coming, left the stands for the

COLLEGE DEBATERS HOLD FIRST MEETING

The first meeting of the college debate squad was held October 25. Mr. E. W. Mounce, chairman of the department of commerce and a member of Pi Kappa Delta speech fraternity, will have charge of the debate work during the absence of Mr. O. C. Miller, chairman of the department of speech.

The question for debate this year is "Resolved: that the United States should agree to the cancellation of the inter-allied debts."

Plans for the debate season are being completed. The tours of the squad will include schools in Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, and Missouri. There will be several debates here which may include one with the University of South Dakota and one with the State College of South Dakota. The team plans to attend the Pi Kappa tournament in Des Moines.

Both men and women are urged to take part in the forensic program. Those students who are interested and who did not attend the first meeting should see Mr. Mounce at once.

TRI SIGMAS GIVE SUPPER FOR DADS

The Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority entertained fifteen of the members' fathers at a smoker in their house from 4 to 5 o'clock on Friday, October 28. After the smoker, the girls who stay at the house gave a dinner for their fathers.

LIMITED PEP

Everyone concedes the point that unless the whole student body is back of the athletic team that that team cannot succeed,—yet in this institution we limit the membership to both of our pep organizations to a small percentage of the student body.

These days we see girls going around carrying various vegetables and wearing overshoes signifying that they were popular enough and good-looking enough to qualify them to become members of a pep organization. Boys are proudly wearing sweaters because they were socially prominent enough on the campus to be "asked" to become members of a pep organization.

It is agreed that the membership to fraternities and sororities should be limited to those who can measure up to certain set standards; but in an institution of this kind it seems absurd to think that one cannot participate in a pep organization—unless he is "asked." Let's think it over, students!

SIGMA MU DELTAS ENTERTAIN FATHERS

Gamma chapter of Sigma Mu Delta fraternity entertained their dads with a 6 o'clock dinner Friday evening, October 28, at the First Presbyterian church.

The guests present were the sponsor, H. R. Dieterich; fathers and "Dads," Andrew Campbell, of Tarkio, Dr. T. J. Eagle, of Savannah; Floyd Shell, of Skidmore; C. E. Williams, of Oregon; and Rev. V. C. Clark, W. T. Garrett, Dr. J. W. Hake, Dr. Ralph Hull, Joseph Jackson, N. R. Miller, Dr. R. C. Person, H. T. Phillips, and Walter E. Westfall, all of Maryville.

Active members present were: William Person, Buford Clark, James Jackson, Ralph Westfall, John Peterson, Forte Sandison, Elwood Williams, Edward Phillips, William Yates, and Robert Perkins. Pledges were: Vern Campbell, Thomas Eagle, Lambert Miller, Harold Person, and Paul Shell.

The committee in charge of the dinner was Marvin Shamberger and John Peterson. William Person, president, acted as toast-master. Entertainment was furnished by the pledges.

Staff Has New Room.

The staff of the Northwest Missourian is now at home in the seminar room at the head of the small flight of stairs at the north end of the West Library. Contributions to the college paper may be left in that room or in a box which will be placed outside the door.

Mrs. Garrett, wife of Mr. W. T. Garrett, of the Biology Department, is doing well since her operation, Thursday of last week.

TRI SIGMAS GIVE SUPPER FOR DADS

The Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority entertained their Dads with a six o'clock buffet supper, Friday evening at the home of Emma Ruth Bellows.

The Dads attending were: E. J. Ketteman of Platte City; E. J. Wooderson of Spickard; H. A. Perry of Fairport; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bellows, Edward Busby, Dr. Jesse Miller, H. W. Kramer, R. B. Montgomery, J. F. Sandison, George McMurry, Sr., A. K. Frank, A. H. Cooper, and E. E. Lloyd all of Maryville.

ART CLUB LISTENS TO TALK ON FRANCE

The Art Club met Monday evening, October 24, in Social Hall, with Ruth Fink as hostess of the evening. Members of the club heard as a program two piano numbers by Junior Porterfield and a talk by Miss Olive S. DeLuce on her trip abroad this summer.

Beginning with a graphic description of her trip across the ocean, Miss DeLuce took her audience to many places of interest, especially in Paris, where she studied during the greater part of the time she was away from the College. As she talked of the Louvre, she made use of a map of it which she had sketched. She made what she had to say more concrete by showing picture postals of many points of interest. She told of her stay in a quaint old town in southern France, where she spent ten days with a group of artists taken there by the man under whom, in Paris, she did private study in painting. Besides her talk on her trip, she gave a rather extensive description of the rural school system in France.

Those who attended the meeting expressed themselves as feeling they had had not only an entertaining, but a profitable evening.

Cella Kunkel spent the week-end at her home in Oregon.

MANY FATHERS SEE SWIMMING EXHIBIT

The swimming exhibit in the College pool on Dad's Day proved to be a major attraction for the parents who jammed the spectator's balcony to full capacity Friday afternoon. The women's classes under Miss Weiss alternated with the men in providing entertainment.

The first demonstration was intended to show how the swimming student first has to overcome all fear of the water before progress can be made. Games were played to illustrate the fact. Following that form, swimming was begun in the side-stroke, American and Australian crawls, back-stroke, and racing back. The men then demonstrated the fundamental and classic dives the straight dive, the swan, the gaynor, and half-gaynor, back-dive, and jack-knife.

The practical use of swimming was illustrated with demonstrations of the various methods used to tow the drowning person to safety. As it often becomes necessary to break away from a frightened victim, methods of breaking holds were shown. As one demonstration, two girls fully clothed, plunged into the nine-foot water and proceeded to disrobe under the surface. A tangled shoestring proved to be a "knotty" problem for one of the participants. Methods of landing a person from a pool were demonstrated and artificial respiration was used.

The exhibition included a race with lighted candles and another with shelled peanuts on a spoon. Breath-control was ably demonstrated by a girl who swam the entire length of the pool under water.

HARRY RUTLEDGE HAS POSITION IN CHICAGO

Harry B. Rutledge, a former student of the College and a graduate of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, will take up the work of the executive secretary of the National Editorial Association on December 1, when the association moves from its old office in St. Paul, Minnesota, into its new office in Chicago.

Since his graduation, Mr. Rutledge has had practical experience on various weekly and daily newspapers of Missouri and had been field manager of the Oklahoma Press Association previous to his being elected to the new position. For a time he was employed by the Western Newspaper Union as advertising campaign service representative in Colorado, New Mexico, and Arizona.

Mrs. Rutledge, who was formerly Miss Nellie Lowery, took her B. S. degree from the College in 1928.

KAPPA OMICRON PHI HAS AFTERNOON TEA

The Kappa Omicron Phi sorority entertained with a tea Tuesday afternoon, October 25, from four-thirty to five-thirty at their cabin in the college park. The decorations and refreshments were in keeping with the Halloween season.

Those at the tea were the sponsors, Miss Hettie Anthony and Miss Ruth Blanshan; the patronesses, Mrs. Uel W. Lamkin, Miss Bertha Beal, Mrs. W. F. Chaves, Mrs. W. F. Phares, and Mrs. H. W. Kramer; and about thirty students of the Home Economics Department.

year. A telling argument against Missouri's system of poorhouses is the large remainder of the country is $254 a overhead expense. In 24 Missouri poorhouses and poorfarms 58 per cent of the maintenance cost goes for pay-roll, while in the state of Delaware the overhead cost of distributing old age pensions ran at the extremely low figure of 6.2 per cent.

In every one of the 17 states that have old age pension laws there has been a marked improvement in the health of the beneficiaries of this law because of better living conditions. Dr. Mehus said. They enjoy greater peace of mind and live a happier life because they can be among their friends and relatives. It has given them self-reliance and greater independence and has not tended to pauperize them. It has removed from their minds the terrors of the poorhouse and is in fact gradually eliminating this relic of social barbarism. From both the economic and humanitarian standpoint, according to the speaker, this law has proved a decided success in the states where it has been adopted.

Clarence Davis visited, Saturday and Sunday, with his parents in Guilford.

Youth Are Not Bad

The youth and college people of this country are not any worse than they were a generation or two ago, Mr. W. H. Morton said in an interview with one of the Northwest Missourian reporters. The older generations have allowed themselves to be crystallized on the sidelines and they fail to see the present generation as a product of the world into which they plunged it—a world of their making, not ours.

The younger generation is caught in the meshes of past generations, said the gentleman. It is their duty to do the best they can to straighten things out.

Mildred Sandison, of Maryville, B. S., 1931, is working on her Master's Degree in Spanish at George Washington University, Washington, D. C. Miss Sandison is assistant-editor of the National Education Association Journal.

CHENILLE by BRADLEY

And why should they? For there's nothing more becoming. And even though the lines are so classically simple, this frock is soft and feminine, too. (That's probably one reason women are so devoted to chenille.)

Note the sleeves and the neckline. They're the two infallible tests of a dress this season. The neck must be high and plain; the sleeves must be full at the top, and slim below the elbow. This Bradley frock rates a hundred per cent. And it has the hand-knitted appearance that's so essential in this type of dress.

FEAR

There is but one real explanation of "price-cutting" and that is FEAR. FEAR explains it all. The greater the fear, the cheaper the price, and the cheaper the price, the more it becomes necessary for the cut-rate cleaner to cut the quality and service.

We do not believe that the public WANTS cheap cleaning. We do not believe that the public can be bamboozled with the inconsistent idea that "high quality" and "cut prices" go hand in hand. Furthermore, our belief is supported by the fact that in spite of the present orgy of price cutting, SUPERIOR has continued to use three trucks and employs twelve people. We have the equipment and we know how.

WOMEN DEBATE PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

Public Utilities was the subject discussed at the meeting of the Social Science Club, October 25, at 7:30, in room 205. The two sides of the question as to public or private ownership were taken by Russell Noblet and Forte Sandison.

Noblet, speaking in favor of public ownership, showed that the government works in a systematic way to get the maximum of efficiency for a minimum expense. He said that Los Angeles, owning its own power plant, pays the city $375,000 in a year. He pointed out that private corporations pay for the cost of the plant, but the public owned plants can put into the system for improvements, illustrating the point that it is cheaper for the consumer under public ownership. Mr. Noblet related the following: In Ottawa, Canada, a farmer had to get every known electrical appliance on his farm. He used 334 kilowatt hours in a month. The average eight-room home is between fifty and sixty kilowatt hours. This farmer paid, under public ownership, for his electricity; if he had been in Washington, D. C., he would have spent, under private ownership, $24.18 for the same amount of electricity.

Forte Sandison began his discussion on the point that the cost of electricity is 45 per cent lower than it was in 1913. He showed that electricity is cheaper under private ownership than it is under public ownership. He pointed out that in Iowa the three towns to raise their rates this year had municipal plants. He stated that sixty-two towns had gone from public to private ownership and had given lower rates to consumers in every case. "When plants are municipally owned," he said, "the rate pay for what the politicians conclude, Mr. Sandison gave as an example of undesirable results of public ownership the case of Campbell, where the salaries of the teachers are cut 22 per cent in order to keep the municipally owned plant.

Black Choir Will Be Major Entertainment

by from deep voices. One weeps, the sorrow laden soul of Russian, or one laughs outright with the childlike and natural sentiment of the Russian peasant—these like fire works through tones seem to know no limits for heights and depths. They make music which is the spirit, moves the heart and the blood.

With a record of highest praise from them over four continents, they demonstrate that music is still the universal language of kindred souls thirsting for the most beautiful expression of heart's emotions. Noted critics of international fame, authorities of music in Europe and America contributed praise and favorable comments to the Russian Cossack Chorus, of this group has been so deserving the recipient.

No way comparable is this group of singers under the direction of Mr. Hoff to other concert groups. The voices are so far out of ordinary quality, range and method of singing that that feature alone is distinguishing. Individually they are artists and while the peculiar beauty of voice is discernible in much of the music, at the same time they are in perfect harmony.

Coloff is unusual as conductor. Usually there are six or more parts sung at one time and added to the tenor singing obligato an octave above the tune, and the matchless effect can be likened to a symphony orchestra but with an added depth of feeling.

A school dance was given by the Student Council, Saturday night, October 29, at the Country Club. It was in the nature of a Halloween party with decorations in orange and black. The lights, covered with orange crepe, wore tiny black masks.

A group of pajama clad girls of the Y. W. C. E. Hall gathered before the fire on the evening of October 31, for a party of fun. Musical entertainment was given by several of the "dorm" girls. Sarah Kate Siddons was in charge of the details of the party.

THE STROLLER

"Humps" owes the Stroller an apology if he means to insinuate that the Stroller read his unpublished copy with reference to "Mop-Top." The Stroller had his information from the original of "Mop-Top" herself, and could tell "Humps" the date, time, place and occasion if he desired. The Stroller thinks this open challenge is nothing more nor less than an underhanded attempt to get at the identity of the Stroller. If it would not give "Humps" an opportunity for a dirty crack, the Stroller might add that "great minds" do, sometimes, "run in the same channel."

Possibly the gentleman under discussion would like some other information the Stroller has, as for instance, the name of the pretty, and quite intelligent, girl who said she thought "Humps" had "lovely, sparkling eyes and pearly teeth." How is that for "sediment?" (With apologies to Popeye).

The Stroller is through with "Humps" until he apologizes—that is, unless something interesting develops which should not be kept from "Humps" dear public.

Not often does the Stroller fear a rival, but from the looks of the practice Fort Sandison has been getting in strolling around, there may be danger. One day last week, Forte waited around the halls for one hour and ten minutes. He wanted a ride to town, to save his feet—so he said.

Dorothy Henderson wanted saving from the fate that turned her into a wash-woman for "Speck" Stewart last Monday. Don't give up hope, Dorothy, you probably won't be a pledge always.

Just every day or two the Stroller realizes how much he is in the company of the able. Not everybody knows it, but Paul Shell was complimented recently on his ability to read his English lesson (Sh! in class).

For real ability, though, here is one: Margaret. "Say, Bill, it's time for nine o'clock class. Where will you be next hour?"

William: "Well—I have three more names to write on this bloomin' typewriter. I'm likely to be right here!"

The Stroller does not know about the ability of this, but Kenneth Spann, turning in an article for the college paper remarked, "Here's an item for the Northwest Missourian. If Miss Dykes flunks me on that, she might as well flunk the whole school because I've had everybody read it."

Since the night the Stroller chaperoned the "Y" party at the Y. W. Hut, Thursday night, he hasn't been worth much. He just nearly died laughing to see Mitzel august student president, forced to "button" while James Robertson, freshman, counted for him.

The Stroller, in his search for gossip and scandalous news, found a snake in the drawing department of the Industrial Arts building. We are wondering if Mr. Valk is a snake charmer and has been holding out on us——?

The depression is on in full swing thinks the Stroller. While roving around in St. Joseph last Saturday he thought he would visit the lengthy bread line. With sympathy in his heart he reviewed the thousands of hungry faces. Finally his gaze fell upon two "lighthouse-keepers" students from Maryville trying to find a place in the line. Herbert Keefe and Raymond Fancher seemed to be arguing with a large negro line mate as to their rights to a place with him. Above the thousands of hungry meanings the Stroller heard the old negro instructing the boys in this manner, "It's jist tellin' you boss, Youse can't get nuthin' to eat round here unless you got a ticket."

The Stroller has been trying to find a bit of information. This time he wants to find out who Garner is so that he may help Christine MacMillan to know who he is next time she is given that name at a party.

A picture of Florence David, of Pickering, as "Miss Nocomo," appeared in the Missouri Pictorial Section of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Sunday, Oct. 30. Miss David, who was crowned Queen of the Nodaway County Fall Fair, September 30, is a former S. T. C. student, and is now teaching the Herron school northwest of Maryville.

The mathematics and science teachers in the College High School have organized for the purpose of aiding the group by observation lessons and collection of materials for use in teaching. The officers are: President, Robert Perkins; vice-president, Betty Hickernerr; secretary and reporter, Georgia Belle Moorshead. On a committee to select a name and the hour of regular meetings are Marion Gibbons and Ray Dull.

BEARCATS WIN VICTORY OVER CAPE INDIANS

THOUGH CAPE GIRARDEAU INDIANS PLAY GOOD BALL, BEARCATS TAKE GAME.

The football team answered the call of the coaches with a victory over the Cape Indians, Friday night, on the Bearcat field. A cold wind from the northwest made the passing and kicking a rather uncertain affair. The Cape Girardeau men played a fine game, but the Bearcat strength proved too much, and the final tally was Cape, 7; Maryville 21.

Stroud and Fallett were outstanding in the Indian backfield. Milner, Hodgkinson, Stigall, and Jones did most of the ball-lugging, with Milner, led by a smooth interference, putting on the longest run of the game. From about the center of the field, Milner skirted the left end of the Bearcat line and raced to a touchdown. Hodgkinson carried the first touchdown over, but fumbled the ball as he crossed the line. Glenn Marr, Maryville, end, recovered the ball and the touchdown was counted. Milner carried over the final touchdown after receiving a lateral pass from Jones.

In the Bearcat line it was hard to pick out an outstanding player. The whole line functioned well and showed its ability to transform itself into a stone wall.

The starting line-ups:

Maryville	Cape Girardeau
Greene	R.E. Hubbard
Sullivan	L.T. Lindhoff
Dunham	L.G. Merrick
Palumbo	C. Twitty
Smith	R.G. Schurenburg
Hedge	R.T. Dunscomb
Sloan	R.E. Pritchard
Milner	Q.B. Crabtree
Hodgkinson	R.H. Stroud
Stigall	L.H. DeVore
Jones	F.B. Fallett

The Skunks will play Graceland College at 8:00, Friday, November 4.

Students in the college high school who have an average of 8 for the first six weeks work are: Lee Barber, Eula Bowen, Opal Miller, Gerald Mitchell, June Vall, Anna Belle Hollensbe, and Esther Schmidt.

A special assembly of the College High School boys was called Tuesday morning, October 25, to propose the organization of a Hi-Y club. The sponsors of the club, Bernard Keefe and Kenneth Spann, both college students, were introduced to the boys by Mr. Herbert Dieterich, principal. Short talks were given by these boys explaining the purpose of the organization and the nature of its work. Various high school boys expressed a desire to become associated with such a club. Mr.

Dieterich told of his interest in the proposal and his wish to become better acquainted with each of his boys. The Y. M. C. A. of the college will act as a "Big Brother" organization to the Hi-Y club.

The College High School has joined the Missouri High School Debating League. This league is to further the interest in debating and give more opportunity for the teams to have competition which will test their ability. This district had twenty-three schools enrolled last year and is hoping to reach that mark again this year.

S. T. C. HAS THEM, TOO!

Certain magazines pay five dollars each for "boners." At that rate, the Northwest Missourian would have paid ninety dollars for the following (they are all local ones, too):

By the Monroe Doctrine Treaty of 1854 the United States and Great Britain agreed to jointly guarantee the neutrality of any canal built across the Isthmus of Panama.

Reform movements which show a growing concern for the physical, moral, and mental welfare of the people are known as westward movements.

By moratorium we mean the right of a state to set aside a law of Congress.

By the dark horse we mean turning out of office men of the defeated party and filling their places with adherents of the victorious party.

The eighteenth amendment provided that "neither slavery nor involuntary servitude would ever exist in any part" of the territory that should be acquired from Mexico by the war.

By the Gods Purpose in 1853 the boundaries of the United States were extended to their present limits.

Eli Whitney, in the year 1828, invented the cotton gin.

Robert Fulton, in the year 1807, invented the cotton gin.

Mrs. Lincoln Stimulated the abolitionist movement with her novel "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The prehistoric inhabitants of Great Britain left Stone Hedges on the plains of Salisbury.

Secondary government is that part of the government which is not so important, such as protection from Indians in the U. S.

Monogamy is the type of marriage where the mother is head of the family.

The President of the Southern Confederacy was Grant.

When the American Colonists gained their independence, the ruling King of England was Arthur.

What noted general surrendered at Appomattox? Washington.

What general led the Union forces in their famous "March through Georgia," about which we sing? John Brown.

What great battle was fought on the first three days of July, 1865? Bunker Hill.

Lincoln's plan of reconstruction was known as the Reconstruction Finance Commission plan.

No doubt many have observed students about the campus, busily engaged with painting materials, making water-color sketches of interesting or picturesque bits of scenery. The people who have been seen thus occupied are members of the Recreational Art class, a new course which is being offered this year. The class meets on Monday at two and at four o'clock.

Miss Mabel Claire Winburn, secretary to the president, is away at present on a two weeks' vacation. She did not take a vacation in August.

BARMANN
AUTO SERVICE
MARYVILLE CO. MISSOURI

To My Public

My dear sufferers:

I have, traveled somewhat this week and am able to bring you a choice item or two. Doesn't Stalecup look like an organ grinder's monkey in that terrible derby? Mr. Lamar got his mouth caught in the megaphone last week and the doctor had to sew it up. Next week I shall wear a lavender orchid in my coat so my friends (both of them) will know me. I am going to get my mid-winter hair-cut . . . Speaking of barber shops reminds me of what I heard the barber tell Fred Crawford while he was shaving him. Fred yawned, long and loud, and the barber remarked in a distinct voice, "Close your mouth or I won't have anything to shave." Vilas Thorp would probably draw the same comment . . . I noticed "Speck" Stewart hanging around the Gym about three o'clock "stuffing" the players with her usual line. . . I mentioned the golden haired letterman in the presence of Otis Lisle and from the sighing he went through I thought I was in a wind storm. . . I am glad my dad wasn't here for the game last Friday; not that the game wasn't a good one but the pep that should have gone with it was not there. I suppose everybody's jaw was frozen or that I was right when I first said that this bunch of students is dead from the neck up. Did it ever occur to you to give a player "a hand" when he came off the field? He doesn't have to be on your team either. This week's diet is for those fair Marys and Eudoras who chose to lose a pound or two. Evening meal: three helpings of potatoes, four hot biscuits, all the preserves you want, plenty of roast pork, a glass of cream, and two pieces of cake. Put this on your little brother's plate and find a piece of cold toast and an orange for yourself. After three weeks you will lose: even your mind. Simple, isn't it? . . . This is a tough job, this writing to you dear (?) souls some bit of choice scandal (or something). If John Harrison Rider does as much practicing as he brags about on that trumpet of his, the neighbors are probably contemplating murder. . . It took thirty minutes, a hot water bottle, and a dime's worth of chile to get me thawed out after the game Friday. . . I wish to announce that with this issue "MOP TOP" becomes a permanent part of this column. Each week she will send to you a bit of her "filosify" on life, etc. . . Now and then she will furnish you with excuses for skipping class (all new). This week's tidbit: "Never tell a freshman boy anything you don't want him to believe." This is based on her personal experience. . . Miss Dykes and I have decided to move our office. Lock us up.

As ever. HUMPS.

Stroller Has New Head

The cut that heads the Stroller column this week is from a linoleum block cut by Charles Stilwell. Mr. Stilwell has done some beautiful block-printing.

Miss Evelyn Perry spent the week-end in Fairport with her parents.

GROWLERS ARE NOW READY FOR BUSINESS

The Growlers have undergone a complete reorganization. New officers and cheer leaders have been elected and these new men are taking their work earnestly in hand as was shown by the coöperativeness of the Growlers and the yell leaders with the student body at the football games against Tarkio College and Cape Girardeau.

The new officers chosen by the Growlers are: President, Max Stalcup, Oregon; vice-president, Judd O'Dell, Fortesque; secretary and treasurer, Howard Cofer, Fairfax.

At a meeting of the student body Wednesday, October 12, Max Stalcup, Oregon; Vilas Thorp, Maryville; and Walter May, Fortesque, were elected yell leaders by acclamation. These three gentlemen have been very busy trying to instill spirit into the student body at the football games, collecting new and old yells alike and making copies of them for the use of the students.

The total number of Growlers is fifty and of these fifty, twenty-two are new men. The old members of the organization have been busy since the beginning of the year making contacts with the new men in a quest for worthy Growlers.

This year the Growlers have shown an unusual amount of spirit and coöperation with the students as a whole and they have taken an added interest in instilling pep into the student body. With the splendid spirit shown by the Growlers and the yell leaders and the proper cooperation by the student body there should be an efficient cheering section.

Students Have Rally

Thursday night the student body under the guidance of the social orders and the Growlers met at the courthouse with the school band and marched to the hockey field north of the gymnasium where by the light of a huge bonfire they held a pep rally for the game with Cape. Yells, parade, and music stirred the bunch up to a high pitch. On the front steps of the gymnasium three pep speeches and some yells were given. The crowd dispersed with a few directions from the cheer leaders concerning the pep for Friday night.

PHYSICAL ED. CLASS OBSERVES BATTERY

Miss Martindale's physical education class met at the Armory Monday evening to observe the marching drill by Battery "C". This class has made an extensive study of Physical Education and its history. Marching and practice in giving marching commands has been the interest of the class for the past two weeks. Each member of the class will be given an opportunity to take charge of a freshman gymnasium class in marching, during the quarter.

Those in the class are: Eudora Smith, Virginia Miller, Esther McMurry, Elsie Hunterston, Betty V. Ellis, Lola Bell, Sutterlin, Mildred Wilson, Carrie Stark, Martha Stucki, Marjorie Pennington, and Naomi Broyles.

The International Federation of University Women, of which the A. A. W. is a member, met last July in Edinburgh, Scotland. This organization which has branches in almost every country in the world, has done much for women, especially in opening education to them and making for better conditions for study.

Elsie Snyder went to Bedison for the week-end.
